The August Visa bulletin holds good news for those Indians who had applied to the USA Green Card and are waiting for years in line for their turn.

Usually the news is published on the USCIS website. http://travel.state.gov/visa/frvi/bulletin/bulletin\_1360.html

As this news was published the website still shows the July dates. However the August numbers were somehow released by the US consulate in Mumbai.

The link is http://mumbai.usconsulate.gov/cut\_off\_dates.html

The USCIS data superceeds the data released by the US consulate in Mumbai, however the numbers look good and people are optimistic about the numbers

Below are the latest priority dates for August 2008
